heating and cooling, however, during the summer months, heat build-up through windows heavily increases the load on cooling systems which can be very costly.

Principal Climate Technology's low-cost SOLEX™ energy-saving window films complement air conditioning systems by reflecting solar energy and UV rays before they enter the building. This reduces reliance on cooling systems which substantially reduces air conditioning energy usage and costs.

New superhero VRV 5 Heat Recovery named Air conditioning product of the year 2023

We knew it was good but the industry has now spoken by naming Daikin's VRV 5 Heat Recovery with R32 as Air Conditioning Product of the Year at the 2023 ACR News Awards.

The new Superhero VRV 5 Heat Recovery technology from Daikin has wowed the industry with its remarkable sustainable climate control benefits and outstanding features.

Topping the list of innovative features is its 3-pipe heat recovery BSSV box which has been specifically developed for lower GWP R32, along with new built-in automatic leak detection.

conditioning installers and contractors to show their customers the payback differences between different models.

Offering customers cheaper air conditioning models helps their pocket in the short term but less efficiency means that the customer will pay more in the long term.

So, if you want to know the payback comparison of say a Daikin Active outdoor versus an Advance outdoor or Alpha outdoor, just get in touch and we will provide you with the payback comparisons for FREE!
